WELCOME THE CHIEF

New Jersey Folk Receive Him.

President Addresses the National Guard.

Speaks of Its Duty and Promises it Guns.

Military Men Stand Off the Secret Service Operators. The G.A.R. Button.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.1

Seagist (N. J.) July 24.—No President ever received a more sincere, heartfelt and patriotic welcome than that given to President Roosevelt today by the people of New Jersey. From the time he landed on New Jersey soil at the Atlantic Highlands Pier, at 1:35 o'clock p.m., until he left in his launch for his yacht, Mayflower, anchored several miles off the pier, at 3:15 o'clock, he was the recipient of a continuous ovation.

companied by Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. W. Emlin Roosevelt, Miss Christine Roosevelt, and Assistant Secretary Loeb, the President left Sagamore Hill at 7 o'clock this morning and boarded the Mayflower, his official naval vessel, from a launch. The run to within sight of the Atlantic Highlands was made by the Mayflower in five hours, but the vessel came to anchor there, as the water was too shallow to admit of her approaching the piler.

Just as she anchored, the Prench liner, La Savole, with Secretary Root, Gen. Horace Porter, Ambassador to France, and Gen. Leonard Wood on board passed out to sea. As the big liner swept hear the Presidential vessel the Mayflower fired a salute of seventeen guns in honor of the Secretary of War. The liner responded by dipping her colors, while the passengers crowded her upper decks and cheered the President enthusiastically.

ors, while the passengers crowded her upper decks and cheered the President enthusiastically.

Maj. Franklin Murphy and Capt. Parker of the Governor's staff boarded the Mayflower from a launch, and conveyed the greetings of Gov. Murphy and the People of New Jersey. Soon after, at 10:30 o'clock, the President and his party landed at the pier from the Mayflower's electric launch, while the harbor resounded with the din of steam whistles and cheers of people in craft of every sort, which scurried about the pier.

As the President and party stepped upon the pier, they were greeted by Gov. Murphy, Senators Kean and Dryden, former Secretary Cornelius Blins of New York, and the Governor's staff in gorgeous uniforms. The party was a President's salute of twenty-one guns was fired.

After a brief rest and an informal reception at the cottage, the President and Gov. Murphy and staff reviewed the troops in camp, the President being mounted on a magnificent chestnut bay, on which he sat perfectly. At the conclusion of the review the President was escorted to a stand adjoining the parade ground, and there addressed the assembled troops and the multi-tude which had gathered, and which by this time numbered nearly fifteen thousand. Gov. Murphy introduced the President. After the demonstration that followed had subsided, the President spoke. In opening his address he complimented the National Guardsmen of New Jersey upon their soldierly bearing and proficiency, and continued:

"A man is of use as a National Guardsman for just exactly the same reasons as he is of use as a citizen; and that is, if he sets to work with his whole heart to do his duty for the time being, to make himself thoroughly redicters to the line of huringses he has time being, to make himself thoroughly proficient in the line of business he has taken up. A National Guardsman who joins only to have a good time, pretty generally does not have a good time, and certainly makes a poor hand as a guardsman.

"It has been the pride of the American army in the past that our troop have always used their rifes efficiently. We have prided ourselves upon having an army of marksmen. Our army has given us a just pride in it, because its constant and scalous effort culated materially to expedite the construction of a line to the Philippines, and eliminate all likelihood of future trouble which might grow out of eable landings at several points on American territory.

No doubt is expressed by officials who are best informed regarding the negotiations between the late John W. Mackay and his agents, on the one hand, and the Federal authorities on the other, that the cable is one hand, and the Federal authorities on the other, that the cabe is to be promptly laid, and be put into operation as far as Hawaii in the next five or six months, and v.a Midway and Guam to Dingala Bay, Lusoa, by the middle of 1908.

Assurances just made public by Vice-President Ward, who was Mackay's right-hand man in all submarine cable matters, were hardly necessary to staisty the authorities here that Mackay's death would cause no modification of the plans.

The United States will undertake to protect the company's landing place against foreign attack, and there will be implied responsibility on the part of the navy to assist, so far as is compatible, with regular the cruising service in the laying and maintenance of lines. The line of cable is to follow precise y the practicable route discovered by the coil r Nero, which was sent out by Admiral Bradford for that purpose.

LONDON, July 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Putnam Bradlee Strong arrived here, as he came over on the American liner, St. Paul, under the assumed name of "Allen." He denied his identity at first. Batcheller, bound for the same place. It is a case of guessing how long it will take the actress to rejoin her lover, after she arrives in London.

The belief in the city that the pawning of the jewels, the flight of Strong.

the threat to have him arrested for theft, the offer of reward, and the withdrawal of the complaint, after the police had become active in the search, were all parts of a scheme to extort money from Strong's mother and sister, increased by Miss Yohe's hasty pursuit of the captain across the ocean. She had obtained about 39,000 before the police were called off, it is said, the money having been paid to redeem the jewels the captain was accused of stealing.

Yohe's mother has been "booming" Lord Francis Hope of late, but the actress's former husband has been freed from her by the courts, and there is not believed to be much chance for her to win him back. The actress has declared very often, and very positively since Strong deserted her that she still boved him, and that if he would come back, she would "forgive and forget."

PARKERSBURG (W. Va.) July 24.—

Judge Jackson, rendering his decision in the "Mother" Jones and other contempt cases today, held that all the defendants had violated the injunction, and were guilty of contempt of court. The judge in his decision said:

"What is an injunction? Is it the exercise of an arbitrary power by the courts of the country, or is it a power that has been recognized from an early date as one of the branches of administrative justice. I answer this quesis the most efficient, if not the only reemedy to stay irreparable injury, and to punish those who disobey the order of a court granting the writ.

"I do not question the right of employes of this company to quit work at any time they desire to do so unless there is a contract relation between them and the employer, which should control their right to quit. of people.

"The right of a citizen to labor for wages that he is satisfied with is a right protected by law, and is entitled to the same protection as free speech, and should be better, protected than the abuse of free speech in which the organizers and agitators indulge in trying to produce strikes." Judge Jackson suspended judgment in the case of "Mother" Jones for contempt. He said that she had been found guilty of contempt "but as she was posing as a martyr, he would not send her to jail, or allow her to force her way into jail."

IBT THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.I DAYTON (O.) July 24.—The Pan-handle limited train from St. Louis handle limited train from St. Louis eastbound for New York was wrecked tonight at Trebins station, a way station, a short distance from Xenia.

Engineer Clark of Xenia was imprisoned under his engine and burned to a crisp. His fireman of Cincinnati, name unknown, was terribly burned and mutilated, his hands and head being crushed and both legs cut off. Three passengers, two women and a man, were burned to death in a Pullman sleeper, and a number of other passengers were injured, how many man sleeper, and a number of other passengers were injured, how many cannot at this hour be learned.

Train No. 2 was flying eastward at high speed, when the engine struck a loaded coal car, which in the darkness had escaped from the siding in Xenia and had run down grade to the danger int. The engine struck it going at point. The engine struck it going at full speed and was turned over, with Engineer Clark underneath. The postal car, combination car and day coach, impelled by the heavy sleepers behind, piled over the engine. The two Pullmans followed, and were laid across the track at right angles. A gas tank under one of the cars exploded, setting fire to the wreck, and the postal car, the coaches and two sleepers were destroyed.

Change Brought Him Death. FRESNO, July 24.—W. E. Shaeffer for some months employed at a chute greaser by the Sanger Lumber Company at Converse Basin in the Sierras, applied yesterday for change of employment, and was put to work chopping wood for the donkey engine. The change proved a fatal one, for he was killed by a "hanger," a heavy steel wire cable, which broke loose from its casting hangers, and falling on him broke his neck.

SHEPARD'S SPEECH.

Edward M. Shepard in his address said in part:

"It is good for us to affirm the larger underlying creed upon which we agree, whatever may be our differences in its application. It is good for us, it is useful to the country, to affirm our agreement upon those questions of national policy, which in this present year, 1902, are ripe for practical and present decision by the American people at the Congress elections. Nor do we need, in doing this to deny or defend, or to perhaps even regret the differences of past opinion, whether among leaders of our party or among us of the rank and file. For Democrats, equally sincere, patriotic and intelligent, have, since the American party began, differed and differences and while party life continued:

"The Republican President could not deny our obligation to grant, was defeated, not by any recalcitrant milling to issues on which the Democratic party life continued:

Nor do we need, in doing this, to deny or defend, or to perhaps even regret the differences of past opinion, whether among leaders of our party or among us of the rank and file. For Democrats, equally sincere, patriotic and intelligent, have, since the American party began, differed and differed widely upon practical and present applications of a party creed, to which all were devoted. Nor will such differences end while party life continues sound and useful.

After alluding to issues on which a Democratic party has differed and become reconciled in past years, Shepard continued:

"We have the best of evidence that the measure of justice to Cuba, which even the Republican President could not deny our obligation to grant, was defeated, not by any recalcitrant minority of the Republican party, but by the opinion of the Republican leaders, when faced by the Cuban Bill which Democratic votes sent to the Senate from the House, that if justice to Cuba were done the tariff question would be opened wide. It would, they feared, precipitate the question of justice to the great masses of the people of our own country by depriving of special tariff privileges the vast money-getting combinations by which the Republican party is so largely supported.

adjourned and then tells the people of the laws he intends to have enacted by some other Congress at some other time.

"If." the speaker said further, "you wish to deal effectively with monopoly, if you want to suppress the trusts, you must put a party in power that means to do it. We know that the Republican party will not even try."

The speaker censured the military administration in the Philippines for crueities inflicted upon ndn-combatants and for the employment of Macabebes, and in conclusion said:

"Let me warn you who sneer at the doctrines and sentiments we have been taught to revere, the time will come in some hour of madness and passion when you will appeal to the stirrer of the storm in the name of the old principles, and the ancient faiths, and he will answer you out of the whirlwind, and with your own sneer. He will say you have taught him to despise all the faiths and fraditions of the past, and if trust only in the opinions, the sentiments and the passions of the hour.

"If we would perpetuate this republic we, must perpetuate those high purposes that gave it life, and are the very breath of its nostrils. They clearly see that the tariff cannot be meddled with in one schedule without inviting popular attention to the inquities of other schedules. The American people are today thoroughly ready to deprive the great monopolistic interests of the country of the special triff privileges which they enjoy. If the Democratic party is selecting its same defer, as it is bound to, to the popular will, it has no choice. The popular will, it has no choice. The issue defer, as it is bound to, to the popular will, it has no choice. The issue defer, as it is bound to, to the popular will, it has no choice. The issue of tariff reform is irrevocably at the forefront.

SENATOR CARMACK'S VIEWS.

Senator Carmack opened his speech with a tribute to the Democracy of New England, who, he said, "through ail these years have dauntlessly faced to have been alleasted form the popular maleration and refused in the struggle now being wagad between those who are a large political meeting here, a letter from ex-Senator D. B. Hill of New York was read expressing regret at the first who deserted the party in 1896 may be defer to the cause they understood to be such that the party of Jefferson, Jackson and Tiden did not need to be reorganized, but that the party of Jefferson, Jackson and Tiden did not need to be reorganized, but that the party of Jefferson, Jackson that the party of Jeffer ent harmony between those who ar

"We cannot tell what issues we may have to meet them in a Democratic spi it to apply to them Democratic spi it is apply to them Democratic spi it is apply to them Democratic spi it is always. In 1892, the paramount, issue was tarff reform, and the Democrat c party boldly asserted its demand for a tarff for revenue only. It fought the campaign, and it won, but its majority was so narrow that a few Senators, disloyal to the party on this subject, defeated the verdict of the peope rendered at the polis. But the fallure of the party to do all that it promisel would not have been so disastrous, but for the fact that the Wilson Bill, unsatisfactory as it was to tariff reform-IT WAS DISASTROUS.

trous than any that the party has been perienced since, and it was due to the fact that the administration diserted the people on the money question, in 1896, the money question had forged to the front, made paramount not by the action of the majority of the Democratic party, but by the attempt of a minority of the party to aid the Republican party to chain the country to an appreciating dollar. Without abandoning its position on the tar-fi question, the party met this issue a d took the side of the people. In spitof the desertion of many formerly complications in its councils, the Democratic party polled a million more votes than it had ever polled before, and would have won but for the indefensible methods of the Republican party, whose leaders held all the protectionist Republicans by declaring the tariff issue to be paramount; molifical the worst of the free giver

HIS NEW PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

"In 1900, the action of the Republican party in turning a war commenced for humanity into a war of conquest compelled the consideration of another question—a question so far-reaching in its consequences that our party rightfully declared it to be the paramount issue. Without abandoning its position on the tariff question or on the money question, it again espoused the people's side of a great issue. That it did not win that year was due to a conjunction of causes, any one of which would have been insufficient to have accomplished defeat. The administration having carried on a brief and successful war, fell heir to the enthusiasm which usually attends a victorious conflict, an unexpected increase in the supply of new gold, and an unexpected influx of European gold due to large crops here and a famine abroad which increased prices, relieved the stress of hard times and gave to the people the benefits that always flow from a growing volume of money. While the advantages which followed a larger volume of money vindicated the principle contended for by bimetallists, they were appropriated by the party in power and those who were influenced by con-HIS NEW PARAMOUNT ISSUE. appropriated by the party in power and those who were influenced by con-anything else rather than forego the advantage which they expected from a gold standard and a bank currency.

"In spite of all these obstacles, the campaign of 1900 only showed a net change of 150,000 votes in favor of the Republicans out of a total vote of over 13,000,000. And what is the situation today? Since the election of 1900, imperialism is more openly avowed and imperialistic methods more boidly entered upon, because the administration can point to that election as an apparent indorsement, although the party leaders at that time vehemently denied imperialistic intent. Those who expect to make a profit out of a colonial system favor it, on the ground that it will pay; those who think that it opened up the Philippines to proselyting, insist that it is providential, while those who are simply seeking some reason for supporting their party's policy fall back upon the doctrine that circumstances got us into the trouble, and that we must stay in until circumstances get us out.

"Since the election of 1900, the trusts have grown and flourished under the Republican administration as might have been expected. Almost two years have elapsed since the last Presidential election, and no legislative attempt has been made to interfere with them, and the executive efforts, instead of being directed toward the enforcement of criminal statutes, are confined to the equity side of the court, and these efforts have not in the least retarded the formation of new combines. "How can the opponents of aristocracy and plutocracy be united for a successful attack upon intrenched privilege? Not by making peace with the enemy; not by imitating their works; their methods or their phrase-ology, but by honest, straightforward appeal to the American people upon a platform that can be understood and with an organization that can be trusted."

Doctors on Autos.

The medical side of automobiling is beginning to rouse discussion, and therefore, of course, disagreement, among doctors. The issue is quite simple, and the arguments for and against are, as usual, "the result of personal experience," and most emphatically expressed. One school holds that deafness, bronchial troubles and catarhare the all but inevitable consequences of the new mode of locomotion, and that the quicker you travel the more certain are you to fall victim to at least one, and possibly all three, of these complaints. The other school insists that all this is pure nonsense, and that traveling in a motor car, especially when it is going at full speed, is a splendid renovator. It sends "swift rushes of pure air through the nostrils into the lungs," while the eternal beating against the pure air in question "hardens the muscles of the face, and quickens these circulation, so that, in spite of a certain tense look which the sport brings into the face, it also freshens it un and renews its youth-

Wall Street Moves Are Significant.

Further and Direct Evidence From the Revenues of Government,

BY EDWARD S. LITTLE.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Wall street, New York City, the place where they buy and sell stocks and bonds by the millions of dollars' worth to the bour, the place where they shear lambs and cut other capers financially, is always very wise. Probably there is no other place in the world where, in a radius of fifteen city blocks, you can find so many men who are wise in their day and generation. These men do not travel in street cars, nor in carriages, nor again in automomen do not travel in street cars, nor in carriages, nor again in automobiles. They walk, every afternoon, from Wall street to the Battery, where, at a private landing, they board a private yacht and go home in it. They are rich men, made so because they can see away into the future. It is related that some of these Wallstreet men can see fifteen years into the future, and, if he lives so long as that, know just where, at the end of the fifteen years, he can make $10.

railroad properties so high that men got dizzy and rich looking at them soar.

Then, about eight months ago, the Wall-street men quit. They just stopped buying and selling, and there was no stock market for nearly eight months. Of course, the market was there, and a few sales were made, but there was nothing of the old-time dash about it. What was the matter, people asked, and Wall street gave no answer. Then pessimists got abroad in the land, and they said that they knew exactly what was the matter. They could tell at a glance that things were rotten on the inside, and things were said that they was going to swell up and bust, right away. The Democrats said so. They said that the trusts had inflated things so badly that there was going to be a panic, and things would go to rack and ruin. Incidentally, the Democratic party would come into power and fix it all up by enacting anti-trust legislation and revising the wicked tariff.

Record: Within ten days or two weeks, the average price of railroad shares on the New York Stock Exchange has gone up about 35 per share. Some of them have advanced 310 the share, and some of them $2, but the average is somewhere around $3. That is, the stupendous railroad capitalization of the United States has increased in value $5 to the $100 in about ten days. And this thing has been done while it is in its most critical age. It has been done during the progress of the coal strike, which is probably the biggest strike in the history of the world, it is a fact that history mentions no other time when 147,000 men in one industry were on strike. And this advance has been made during a great strike in the history of the world. It is a fact that history mentions no other time when 147,000 men in one industry were on strike. And this advance has been made during a great strike of teamsters and freight handlers in Chicago.

revenues of the government for the first fourteen days of the present year—that is, for the first fourteen days of July of this year—footed up $22,591,000. For the same days last year, when the war revenue act was in operation, the receipts of the Treasury were $22,000,000. What does that mean? Repeal the revenue-producing laws of the government, and get almost as much money? It simply means that more business is being done in the country this year than last year. It means that more stuff is being brought here from foreign countries, and duties paid into the Treasury upon it. It means that more tobacco is being smoked, because people have even more money with which to buy that delightful, restful and abused weed.

Then the railroad earnings continue to climb up at a great rate. Every important railroad is taking, in more money this year, than it did last year. People are not talking so much about it, because the thing is getting to be an old story, but the record shows it to be a fact. There is just one hope for the Democrats, and that is that no rain falls in the country for six months or so. That is their only chance.

win, I intend to keep on fighting as long as there is any one to fight. I am also satisfied with the referee. Tomorrow pight will settle everything, and may the best man win.

Jeffries jumped on the scales tonight and tipped the beam at 216 pounds. He will come over late tomorrow evening, probably 7 o'clock, and will go direct to the pavilion. This schedule, however, is subject to change if any unforseen circumstances arise.

Jeffries did very little work today. In the morning he exercised for a short time in the gymnasium, so as to limber up his muscles, and in the afternoon he took a pull around Lake Merritt. He did not attempt to make any speed, but just rowed slowly.

Delaney says everything is satisfactory. "I am perfectly satisfied with Jeffries's condition," he said, "He never trained better in his life. Jeffries will win to a certainty."

FITZ "WILL WIN."

Fitzsimmons exercised at his hotel.

FITZS "WILL WIN."

Fitzsimmons exercised at his hotel. He steepped around lively, and did "shadow" work with a pair of dumbbells in his hands. Fitzsimmons is in grand condition, and says he will make the fight of his life. "I will win," he says, "but can't say in what round. I will prove that there is another good fight in me yet, and I will retire champion of the world."

The sum of $6400 was taken in for tickets today. The sale up to the present is $25,000. This is higher than the sale of seats for the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight. The management expects to take in $40,000. Sam Thall, stakeholder for the club and contestants, today drew out of bank the money deposited with him by Fitzsimmons, Jeffries and the San Francisco Athletic Club. This will be turned over to the parties when they enter the ring.

George Harting will be official time-keeper. Harry Corbett will challenge the winner in behalf of Jim Corbett.

The lights were turned on tonight, and worked satisfactorily. The big canvas canopy will be stretched tomorrow morning. There will be two entrances to the arena, one on Valencia street and the gallery entrance on Julian avenue. The arena is 200215 feet. It makes a magnificent appearance. It is as safe as carpentering skill and care can make it. The ground seats are only fourteen feet high. The betting now stands 10 to 4½ with Jeffries the favorite. There is heavy wagering, as Fitzsimmons has many supporters. Sporting men from all over the country are coming on every train.

HOW THE TIMES TREATS LABOR.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES regularly pays to its skilled, reliable and workmen wages that average from $3.75 to $4.50 per day for time from $4 to $5.50 per day for piece work. These rates are higher an are paid by any competing newspaper; and another advance has recently an agreed upon. The Times pays larger sums weekly, monthly and yearly or than any journal in all the Southwest. Its cash disbursements on this unt between August, 1890, and the end of September, 1901, aggregated 07,080.81, and its annual expenditures for labor of all classes, both skilled killed, now average more than $175,000 per year. There never has any attempt, in any quarter, to deny these specific and telling facts, the proprietors challenge such denial if made. Not for years has The s had any trouble with its workmen, who are independent of unions, players and to themselves, well satisfied and prosperous. The controls its own business in its own way, subject only to the laws of land; and no interference with that control can be lawfully or justly.

The result of its fixed policy has proven highly beneficial to all conred public approval in most marked and conspicious ways, the circulat ing patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstri steadily and largely outstripping that THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY. H. G. OTIS, President and General Manager.

Since no attempt whatever has ever been made in any quarter to refute, or m dispute, the accuracy of the foregoing authoritative statements, our deted maligners are estopped; and the public is amply warranted in giving no dence to contemporary hostile assaults upon The Times management in the steer of its relations to its workmen, or vice versa. into a labor union, and were affiliated with the "Council of Rest," or some kindred "labor" organization. But the police are unorganized, in the sense referred to, and so these babitual and craven trucklers to the bogie-man of "organization" are valiant to attack the proposition to raise their pay to a figure commen-surate with the increased cost of living and the importance of the service which they are required to render.

There are many mechanics of in-different skill, in Los Angeles today, who are receiving higher wages than service from every member of the Police Department. For the service we should pay a fair price, and pay it willingly. If there be men in the corps who are not first-class and ca-pable of earning that moderate com-pensation, they should be "fired" off the force, and none of the same sort

It may be added that the recom dation made by Chief Elton yesterday, that the police force be in-creased in number, should be adopted by the Council. There is no question as to the need of a greater number of men. The proper protection of life and property demands a larger force. of a moderate increase in cost should stand in the way. The new appointees might properly be paid no more than the present salary rate, their pay to be increased after a cerservice. Indeed, it might be a good plan to place the entire salary system on a progressive basis, advancing the pay with increasing years of faithful service.

BLOW FOR THE SUGAR TRUST.

An item of news appeared among the dispatches on Thursday which, if confirmed, is likely to keep the sugar trust busy for a time, and divert its attention from the sufferings of the poor Cubans, in which it has shown such marked and sympathetic interest. It is stated that the recently orwhich mention has appeared in the efineries from the Atlantic to the Pacific, in which a new process of refin-ing will be used, invented by C. A. Spreckels, by which it is said the cost of refining sugar is reduced from $7 to $1 a ton. It is stated that an active warfare will be waged on the sugar trust, and that the beet-sugar men will be assisted, with this object in view. The process is stated

If this is true, it means that the arrogant and overbearing sugar trust is likely to have a "run for its money" and if the reported saving by the new process is not exaggerated, then it is difficult to see how Havemeyer's big corporation can avoid be ing crushed, or absorbed. Incident ally, this is an interesting piece of news, marking another step in the bitter and vindictive fight that has been going on between Claus Spreckels and his sons. In a contest of this kind, the sym-pathy of a great majority of the American people is likely to be with a corporation which promises not only to reduce the price of sugar, but at the same time to aid in upbuilding an important American industry-the culture and manufacture of the sugar beet.

As for the public will, it is unoubtedly and emphatically in favor of letting the tariff alone while the country is prospering so unprecedently. At Fresno the thermometer registered 110, with humidity about 6 per cent. greater than usual. At Stockton it was 104, at Grass Valley 100 (and 95 at 6:30 p.m..) and at Sacramento 107. Now, mark the contrast. In Los Angeles the highest temperature recorded on that vall in spite of all attempts to deh'ghest temperature recorded on that day, by the United States Weather Ob-server, was 86 deg. According to Col. Macfarlane of Honolulu, the death knell of the sugar trust has been sounded, the clapper in trust has been sounded, the clapper in the bell being a new process of refining sugar discovered by one of the Spreckels family. Let us hope that this is the case, and that the trust may not make it so interesting for Mr. Spreckels, the inventor, that he will sell out his secret and thus set us back just where we were before. Being possessed of the knowledge that money talks, one may be pardoned for having some doubts about a valuable secret being kept long from a concern that has as much money within hailing distance as the sugar trust can "cough up."

The death rate that is charged up to Los Angeles in the statistics is by no means a true count, for the reason, as is well known, that it is the visitors and health seckers in large numbers who come here to die, particularly those suffering with the dread disease tuberculosis, who pile up our averages. Cut out these cases and the death rate of Los Angeles would be found to be among the very lowest in the country. As for the natives, they live to a green old age, and leave Los Angeles for even a better land with all sorts of regrets.

TOO MANY MICROBES. NEW YORK, July 24 .- First attempts by the commissioner of the street-cleaning department to photograph the microbes inhabiting the air in various sections of the city in order to remove their cause have come to naught for a peculiar reason. The gelatine plates exposed at different points were taken to the laboratories after one hour in the open air. To the surprise of the experimenters the microbes, it was found, had gathered in such numbers as to present an indistinguishable mass, which it was impossible to disintegrate. MANILA, July 24.—The court-martial of Lieut. Edwin A. Hickman of the First Cavalry, on the charge of having ducked in a pond two natives of Tayabas because they refused to guide him to the stronghold of the insurgent leader, Cabalies, and with having ducked a third native, who died from the maitreatment, has been concluded after two brief sittings, and Lieut. Hickman is believed to have been acquitted.

The defense admitted all of the specifications in the first charge, taking exception only to the word "unlawful," and pleaded justification under general order 100, and the conditions prevailing in Tayabas province. The defense also produced a telegraphic order from Gen. Chaffee, urging the location of Cabelles, regardless of the measures necessary to do so. The defense disclaimed any desire to shift the responsibility, and said the telegram produced showed the urgent necessity of locating Cabelles.

Lieut. Hickman testified regarding the charge that he caused the death of a third native, and said that witnesses at the Gardener inquiry testified that this man died from injuries; that he was not ducked, and that he was not molested. The brothers, who had the contract for painting the house, had just started to move one of the scaffold hooks from the cornice along the front of the building. George Stephenson stoeped and caught hold of one of the hooks. He had no sooner done so than there was a flash from the wire three feet from the cornice and Stephenson straightened up rigidly and fell back on the roof dead.

An accident similar to this, where the current passed through the air, occurred a few months ago, when a man was killed by a shock from a wire of the Edison Electric Company. Various explanations have been made for such a transmission of current, but the most plausible attributes it to the humidity of the atmosphere. The wire, like a majority of those having a high voltage, carries no insulation.

Considerable trouble has been experienced with the San Gabriel wire on former octasions. A flaspole was placed at the point where Stephenson was killed, a few weeks ago, but after two flags had been burned it was moved farther back.

Stephenson had been in business here with two brothers several years, and was well known. An inquest will be held this morning.

The men struck for a raise from $3 to persons having electrical work to be done.

The men struck for a raise from $3 to $3.50 for a day of eight hours for fourneymen, and from $2.50 to $3 for first-class helpers. Beside this there was a list of thirteen other demands governing the conduct of the employers' business. The contractors made every effort to settle the matter amicably by some sort of compromise before the men quit, and had the workers been disposed to yield some points without interruption of business they could have secure some of the concessions asked for. But after the strike was ordered the contractors determined to fight it out. Several of the most expert men had been getting the higher rate of $3.50, but it was determined when the strike began that the $3 rate would be made universal. When the strikers decided to go back the employers decided that the $3.50 men would not be made to suffer, and this concession ended the strike.

LURE DEPARTMENTS SHOP DEDICATED.

Members of Engine Company on Aliso Street Good Hosts-Guests Shoot Down the Sliding Pole and Imspect the Machinery Plant.

With an excellent banquet and impromptu speechas by the Mayor, members of the Council and Fire Commissioners, the fire department machine shop on Aliso street was dedicated yesterday. The members of engine company No. 4 acted as hosts, and dispensed hospitality with a lavish hand. Chief Thomas Strohm takes special pride in the machine shop, as it has been the means of saving many hundreds of dollars to the city already. All the repair work of the department is done at the shop. Formerly the engines had to be shipped to an eastern city or San Francisco when a new boiler was to be installed, but now the mechanics in the department will do all the work, and the efficiency of the service is in no wise impaired by the few men who are assigned to this special duity.

When Chief Strohm took charge of the department he saw that the insequity of the men could be turned to

When Chief Strohm took until the department he saw that the ingenuity of the men could be turned to good advantage. A machine shop was started, at which minor repairs were made. It was found that the venture would be a success on a large scale the present shop on Aliso street and the present shop on Aliso street and the present shop on Aliso street.

and the present shop on Aliso street was fitted for the use of the department mechanics. Yesterday the firement mechanics. Yesterday the firement at the house spread a banquet and invited the City Fathers and commissioners to view the shop and participate in its formal dedication as a permanent addition to the department.

The Mayor, Councilmen McLain and Todd, all the members of the Fire Commission, Chief Strohm, Secretary "Bobble" Burns and several invited guests helped the members of the company dispose of the feast of good things which had been prepared. When called on by Toastmaster Kuhrts, the Mayor made a very felicitous speech. He congratulated the members of the company on the good showing that has been made in the machine shop, and referred to the general excellence of the service. He declared that the Los Angeles fire department has made an envisible record, and that harmony generally prevails. With a few exceptions he believed the department to be composed of able and trustworthy men, who had high ideas of their duty to the public. He said he believes in paying good salaries to men who think about the duties they have to perform, and do not spend their time pining for the arrival of pay day. Such men, he declared, are worthy of the public trust. Councilman McLain spoke of the arrival asys when the engines were dragged to the scene of the fire with ropes. McLain was a member of the first fire department in Los Angeles, and at one time drove engine No. I, which has recently been renovated. He related many incidents of the early days.

In response to a call from the toastwaster. Councilman Todd in whose

The Chief paid a compliment to the men of the department and other city-officials followed with short talks.

After the banquet an exhibition hitch was given by the company, the men-shooting down the sliding pole and climbing on the apparatus with won-derful dexterity and speed. In a very short time the horses were in harness and the apparatus was speeding down the street.

Just to show that he is a good fireman Mayor Snyder gave an exhibition flide down the pole, and then all the other guests did the same. An inspection of the machine shop occupied the rest of

EARLY ADVENTURES OF HON. GEORGE C. PERKINS GOLDEN GATE STATES-MAN-RELATES FIRST SUCCESSES-PIV-OTAL DECISIONS WHICH LAUNCHED HIM ON THE PLOODTIDE OF PORTUNE.

YO ONE, and least of all a sailor man, can look back over his life and fail to realize the truth of hakespeare's wise and famous words:

and smiling seas that stretched like a royal road to my haven. Many a lucky and timely turn of the wheel shifted buffeting winds into hearty helpmates. Tides ebbed and flowed, bearing good and ill—seeming good that was in reality ill, and ill that long afterward I found was good. But the momentous step of my life, the floodtide that led to my modest share of good

We were snipmates in the new snip Lissie Thompson, Capt. Oliver Smith. She sailed from my native village, Kennebunkport, for St. John's, N. B., to load lumber for Dublin. She was a new snip, finished in "inter, and after sailing her seams warped, she "spit the oakum," and sprung a leak. Some of the men mutinied. They declared the ship would never reach Dublin, and demanded that she be put about. The mate—a powerful, blustering fellow—knocked half a dozen of them into the scuppers, but so many of them mutinied that the skipper was forced to put back to St. John's. The obstreperous sailors were sent ashore. On board were three young fellows who were already heartily sick of the sea. They begged me to set them ashore. One night we slid down a rope to the dingy and went ashore, and I never saw them again—that is, not for thirty years or more, when one of them came into my office in the Capitol at Sacramento, where I was serving as Governor, and wanted to know if I was the Clem Perser mpson, Capt. Oliver Smith ere I was serving as Governor, and nted to know if I was the Clem Per-

I was.

*Getting a new cargo, we sailed again, discharged at Dublin, and went to Liverpool, where we took on a cargo of sait for New Orleans. All this time Fairbrother, who was much older than I, was telling me steries of California. He had been on the American River, and had picked up gold, he said, in *49 and *50, and wanted to return. The ambition of my life was to own.

There occurred perhaps the trifling incident that determined the course of my life. I found Fairbrother, who had shipped in the clipper ship Galatea, Capt. Barbour, for San Francisco, and the ship was ready to sail. They had thirty-two men and seven boys—all the hands they wanted. Fairbrother said he was sorry I had been too late, went to the wharf and stepped aboard the Galatea. The mate glowered upon me. "Do you want another boy "I asked. "No," he replied. "We don't want any more d—d boys. You get over the rail."

I hung about the wharf all day. I made up my mind to go on that ship if I had to stow away. Finally the master went aboard, and I stepped after him.

"Do you want another boy?" I asked.

"Do you want another boy?" I asked.
I did not realize that my life's whole destiny depended upon his answer, but I could not have been more in earnest
if I had known.

The skipper—he was a Russian, and one of the finest sailors I ever knew—looked down at me.

"Can you stow a skysail?" he asked, abruptly. "Can you rig out a to'-gallant stu'ns'l boom?"

Lassured him that I could and added.

lant stu'ns'l boom?"
I assured him that I could, and added that I could make any kind of bend, splice or knot that any of his sailors could make.
He gave me a searching glance, and in the twinkling of an eye, unknown to him or me, my fate was sealed.
"We don't need any boys," he said, "but I'll take you as an ordinary sea-

In those days ships carried skysalis, and boys were sent aloft to handle them. When we were off Rio a rolling sea and stiff gale were encountered, and I was sent up to stow a skysali. The mate, Hall, stood on deck and bawled orders to me that I could not hear, because of the shrieking of the wind through the rigging. The ship rolled fearfully, and I had all I could do to hang on, but I completed my task and scrambled down.

Hall came toward me with a belaying pin, cursing me for not obeying his orders, whatever they were. He struck at me, but the ship at that moment lurched. We clinched and rolled into the scuppers, which were full of water. Hall splashed about and regained his feet, but the ducking took some of the meanness out of him. He was not nearly as vicious as he turned upon me again. Yet I feared trouble and reached for my sheath knife.

"If you touch me I'll cut your heart out," I said boldly—mere boldly than I meant.

The captain appeared at this instant and overheard my threat. He ordered me to go below. Three hours afterward I fook my turn at the wheel. Though a boy, I was one of five who were intrusted with steering the ship, and the skipper in a bluff fashion had shown some liking for me. He came up and asked:

"What did you mean by threatening the ship, heart out?"

the skipper in a bluft familiar shown some liking for me. He came up and asked:

"What did you mean by threatening to cut Mr. Hall's heart out?"

"I meant what I said." I replied.

"That man has badgered me ever since we left New York. He is determined to have trouble. Rather than stand it any longer I will cut his heart out if he touches me."

"No, you won't," said the skipper, quietly. "When there's any fighting going on in this ship I want to boss the job, do you hear? Now, you get along with Mr. Hall the best you can. I have told him to keep his hands off of you."

mate of this ship by the time you are 20.

"Captain," I replied, "Til be owner of a schooner of my own before I am 20. I'm going to the mines."

"To the mines?" Pahaw!" he replied. "What can a sailor do in the mines? You won't find any gold."

But I was determined to go to the gold fields, and took my chest of clothes from the ship. With the little money coming to me I bought a shot-gun and a pepper-box pistol and a roll of blankets. With my shipmate I went down to the wharf and found work. We worked our way up the Sacramento River on a boat, and then, shouldering my blankets, I walked 150 miles over the mountains into Butte county.

There I found work with a wheel-barrow and in a store. I saved every cent I could make, still dreaming of that South Sea schooner. By the hardest drudgery and economy, I gathered up 3800.

sun and a pepper-box pistol and a roll of blankets. With my shipmate I went down to the wharf and found work. We worked our way up the Sacramento River on a boat, and then, shouldering my blankets, I walked 150 miles over the mountains into Butte county. There I found work with a wheel-barrow and in a store. I saved every cent I could make, still dreaming of that South Seas schooper. By the hardrest up 3500.

LAUNCHED FUCCESSWARD.

A man came into the store one day, discouraged with his hard luck. He owned a steamboat, but the river had thrown a sandbar across the channel and he was out of business. He offered his steamer to anybody who wanted it for $3000. It was an enormous figure, did get that steamer. I converted everything I had into cash, making a tert with the great of my life when I stood at the wheel and gave orders. Never since then have I experienced quite so keenly the thrill of triumph. I managed to work a passageway through the sandbar.

I manage to work with a wheel-barrow and in a store. By the hardress and the owner of the boat said the would wait for part. So within a week I stood on the deck of my own vessel. It was the proudest moment of my life when I stood at the wheel and gave orders. Never since then have I experienced quite so keenly the thrill of triumph. I managed to work a passageway through the sandbar.

and gave orders. Never since the have I experienced quite so keenly the thrill of triumph. I managed to work a passageway through the sandbar, and began freighting up and down the river. My business prospered, and in a few trips I had made enough to pay for the vessel. From that time on my way was comparatively easy.

As I became older and involved in business my dream of South Sea Island trading became fainter and fainter, but to this day I cannot say that it has a entirely faded. It would still be a pleasant, profitable life—would it not to have a fine little schooner, all your own, and go down to the South Seas. It trading with the brown-skinned natives for copra and nuts and fruit, threading through the emerald islands, if ashing their white edges in a purple sea. That was my ideal life. But instead, I have been busy with steamers trading on more prosaic coasts, and in the Capitol, dealing with weighty affairs, when sometimes my sallor-boy spirit has led be to wish I was off for the South Seas in a spanking breeze, and all the world before me!

Capt. Barbour was port warden of Boston when I was Governor, and sent greetings to me. I invited him to California, and told him I would make him port warden at the Golden Gate. But he never carge.

sie Beatty and Florence Darch Lothe to Deprive Each Other of the Leadership-Friendly Rivalry Animates the Various Candidates.

It was easy going yesterday for most of the youngsters engaged in The Times' Scholarship Contest. Nobody Bessie Beatty, the leader, hung back a little and Florence Darch crept up to within a few hundred points of regain-ing the lead. Such a firm friendship ing the lead. Such a firm friendship has sprung up between these two young ladies that it has almost come to be a case of Gaston and Alphoi to be a case of Gaston and Alphonse.

"You take the lead today, my dear Florence," said Miss Beatty.

"No, I beg of you to remain in the lead, my dear Bessle," says Miss Darch.

"Please be first tomorrow, my dear Florence."

"After you, my dear Bessle. I cannot think of taking first place."

"I entreat you se go up ahead, my dear Florence."

"I entreat you be go up ahead, my dear Florence."

"I miplore you to remain at the head of the list, my dear Bessle."

That isn't exactly the language the young ladies have been using, perhaps, but it is a fact that each is very considerate of the other's feelings, and is willing to give way that the other may occupy first place, at least temporarily. This friendly rivairy is carried all along down the line, and while each boy or girl is anxious to win a good scholarship, all appear to be eager for the rest to fare equally well.

Egbert Edwards has gotten back into his old place again, No. 3. It seems impossible to keep him out of it for more than one day at a time.

Gertrude Smith is No. 4 again, but only 165 points behind Edwards. The people of Downey, Whittier and Rivera, where she gets nearly all of her support, will see to it, perhaps, that she will recover third place before the end of another day. The Whittier and Rivera districts are standing loyally by Miss Smith, and she is duly appreciative of all the assistance rendered her.

I have told him to keep his hands off of you."

We had no special trouble after that—nothing but curses and black looks from Hall. I did my duty, and took to heart the lesson taught me by a former master, which was: "Stand fast, and steer northeast."

OFF FOR GOLD FIELDS.

We sailed from New York in May, 1855, and in the latter part of October arrived at the Golden Gate, after the usual share of storm and calm. Then another turning point came in my life. Should I stay with the ship or go to the mines?

Capt. Barbour wanted me to stay. "My boy, you've got the making of a good sailor in you," he said. "You staw with the ship. We're going to Calcutta, and I'll make you third mate by the time we get there. "You'll be mate of this ship by the time you are 20." "Captain," I replied, "I'll be owner of a schooner of my own before I am 30. I'm going to the mines."

"To the mines?" Pahaw!" he replied, "What can a sailor do in the mines? You won't find any gold."

But I was determined to go to the gold fields, and took my chest of clothes from the ship. With the little money coming to me I bought a shotgun and a pepper-pox pistol and a roll of blankets. In Extereme Contrast.

It is doubtful if the great Mississippi Basin ever experienced two seasons in such marked contrast as this season and the preceding. The summer of 1901 passed into history as the hottest and dryest perhaps ever experienced since the discovery of the "Father of Waters." Forests died, the ground became absolutely devoid of moisture in thousands of localities, crops failed to mature, living streams ceased to live, and altogether it was equal to an Australian summer.

This season the reverse is true, and cereal vegetation is so abundant as to last year killed the pasturage, meadows and grass land everywhere, leaving nothing for the farmer but to plow up his once prosperous lands and plant them to an annual crop—corn or wheat. This has increased the output mightily.

"And again, there is the question of environment to be taken into consideration—the entire county an almost contiguous orchard, a practically unlimited food supply and breeding ground for this most fecund of pests. We have food supply and breeding ground for this most fecund of pests. We have had ample demonstration of what a few scale bugs are capable of doing in the all-the-year-round breeding season of this county (witness the white scale,) and I would suggest that the matte

THE FRUIT ORCHARD.

The Pineapple Crop.

New York consumes more and a sreater variety of fruit in proportion to its population than does any other community on the globe. To its markets are shipped the fruits of all lands and climes, and they find there a ready sale.

community on the globe. To its markets are shipped the fruits of all lands and climes, and they find there a ready sale.

Each fruit, whether domestic or foreign, arrives here and predominates in its proper season. Just now the pineapples are brought to this city in greater or lesser quantities during ten months of the year. The heaviest shipments usually take place in April and May, but drought delayed the growth and maturing of the crop of 1902, and so May and June became the heavy months of this year.

The fruit comes from several localities, but Cuba is the principal producer. The crop in that island this year is estimated at nearly 200,000 barrels, or a total of about 14,000,000 pines. Florida is expected to furnish about half that number, and the Bahamas about 3,000,000, making a total of nearly 25,000,000 pines to be marketed in the United States.

The season for Florida pines doesn't open until June 15 or 20, so that it does not ordinarily interfere with the Cuben trade, and most of the product of the Bahamas is sent in sailing vessels to Baltimore, where it is wanted for canning purposes. Porto Rico, it is stated, cuts no great figure in the matter of pineapples. The present season is said to be only a fair one for pineapples in Cuba. In the Bahamas it is complained shat the crop, though of good quality, is 40 per cent. short of the average and only 80 per cent. of last year's value.

About half the total importations of pineapples into this country are used by confectioners, by manufacturers and druggists for extracts, and by canners for preserving. A Detroit chemist has also succeeded in obtaining a champagne-like wine from the fruit, but in that respect the grape seems still to be holding its own.—
[Leslie's Weekly.

The present season has been more than usually favorable to the decay of oranges, especially in early shipments. Every year the loss from the rotting of both oranges and lemons is very considerable. The cause of the rot and the precautions that should be taken to avoid the trouble are very rarely understood by those who handle the fruits; and there can be no doubt that a fuller knowledge of the subject would enable growers and shippers to avoid much of the loss. The present bulletin is prepared in response to requests from numerous growers for information on this subject:

The Cause—The cause of the rot of oranges and lemons in the growth, through their substances, of a mold fungus known scientifically under the name of Penicillium digitatum. The growth of this plant within the fruit causes a softening and breaking down of the tissue, a very characteristic change in the flavor of the juice, and sooner or later a very pronounced discoloration of the affected part. The fungus belongs to a genus consisting of a number of well-known species, all having much the same manner of growth and producing decays on various substances. The name "blue mold" applies to the whole group. The heat-known species is Penicillium glaucum. This species is one of the common forms of rot-producing fungi that attack deciduous fruits, but it is probably even better known from its attack upon all manner of substances in the household, such as cooked foods, clothing, etc. While Penicillium graucum is thus found in a great variety of situations, it appears that Penicillium digitatum attacks only citrus fruits, confining itself wholly to these.—[Florida Agricultrist.

Great Jove, what a windstorm! at Newbern, N. C. Where our trade contemporaries got their information, so called, and how they were so badly bitten, is pretty well shown in the following paragraph from the Redlands Citrograph:

The whole Coachella Valley is not valued at more than one-third of a million dollars. The cantaloupe crop was damaged about 30 per cent. two months ago, and the growers will net $56,000 for the crop anyway. Such news fakers as this should be summarily fired."—Guide.

THE VEGETABLE FIELD.

Tomatoes are a Wooder.

Canned tomatoes are becoming the perennial wonder of the business. On the 27th of last month every canned-goods broker in the city of Baltimore was quoting No. 3 standard tomatoes at $1.90. On the situation The Trade, of the city mentioned, has the following to say:

"Good authorities are of the opinion that the absorption of the pack, once it commences, will be so rapid and steady that the price will rule high all through the packing season, and it would require a prolongation of summer temperatures almost up to Christmas to furnish the supply of tomatoes to put the distributing market back into what may be called a normal condition. It can, therefore, be safely calculated that we will continue to have high prices for tomatoes for the next two years.

"The peculiarity of the situation has actually infected the retail dealers throughout, the country, and speculation, born partly of fear and partly of greed, is tempting these retail dealers to gather in whatever tomatoes they can find anywhere. The high prices of canned tomatoes during the spring resulted in the retail grocers they can find anywhere. The high prices of canned tomatoes during the spring resulted in the retail grocers pulling along without replenishing stocks, under the supposition that prices would be lower in June, either from an early development of packing or a large supply of southern truck. Both of these anticipations have proved false and the retail grocery interest of the country finds itself almost without canned tomatoes.

In other words, the entire population of the country is almost facing a famine of canned tomatoes, and an unanticipated calamity, but one which will tend to cause the carrying of heavier stocks of these goods hereafter. If, therefore, we had a pack of $,000,000 of cases this year; it could be absorbed without detriment to the market, whereas the probabilities are that we will be at least 25 per cent. short of average pack.—[California Fruit Grower.

THE FARM. Those Russian Thistles.

Russian thistles have made their ap-pearance in large numbers on the Chino ranch, says the Champion, and chino ranch, says the Champion, and most of our people recognize them by sight. All should learn to do so as soon as possible. Concerning this noxious weed, and methods for its eradication, the Pacific Rural Press says:

"The Russian thistle has been for many years a destructive weed in the Caspian Sea region of Russia, so serious in wheat, bariley and flax that it is claimed that some lands were abandoned. The weed was found in South Dakota in 1873, having been brought from Russia in foul flaxseed. Its spread in the Central West was very rapid, and about eight years ago it found its way to California, appearing in widely-different parts of the State, evidently having come by rall and finding lodgment beside the cartracks. It is now established in several counties, and is going onward. It should be checked in every possible way.

"As for what can be officially and so as a south counties, and is going onward. It should be checked in every possible way."

Local Interests.

The Oxnard factory of the American Beet Sugar Company is again at work after seven months' rest, grinding up the beets of the crop of 1992. The plant was started Saturday evening, Roger, son of Superintendent Williams, putting the first beets in, and starting the main engine. It sends a thrit through a layman to see the immense plant, which, with its myriads of beets, wheels, seething vats, and miles of pipes all started doing their doomed do at the turning of a lever by a small boy. But thus was it done and the factory, with its 600 employés, is at work in harmony making standard granulated sugar from a raw vegetable. On Saturday last the lime kilns were started to get a supply ahead. The fires were lighted by Mary Driffii and Hazel and Ruth Virden. They all marched up to the kiln armed with torches, and applied the flames to the four corners.

MADE CASHIER A TARGET.

First Shot at Him and Then Demanded That He Give Him Two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars. BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.W.1 FORTVILLE (Ind.) July 24.—About FORTVILLE (Ind.) July 24.—About a noon today, while Assistant Cashler Prettopo was in the Fortville Bank alone, a well-dressed man came in, pointed a revolver at Prettopo and fired. The ball went wild. The man then demanded that Prettopo give him $2500 or be killed. The shot attracted the attention of people outside the bank, and the robber ran. He escaped to the woods, half a mile away, where a posse of twenty-five men captured him after wounding him. He fired his pistol repeatedly, but hit nobody. The man refuses to give his name. He is not seriously injured.

With the grip caught in a broken strand of the rope, a runaway cable car went tearing over the Templestreet hills yesterday afternoon. It ran through an open switch on a single track which goes on over the hills. As the runaway cashed along, another car came over the hills from the opposite direction, along the same track. The passengers on the runaway car became panic-stricken and threw themselves from the antiquated vehicle, which had never gone "faster than a walk" before.

The man passenger got worried and took a chance by jumping off at full speed. He landed safely. Then the two women and gripman ment on alone.

As they shot down the slope beyond Belmont avenue, a dot appeared on the hill above Alvarado street. It crept up bigger until the horrified passengers as we that it was a car from the opposite direction on the same track. The prosition of the hill.

The women screamed and one of them rose, balanced herself on the edge, and took the leap; she landed without a stagger, safely. The other woman did not dare.

Then the gripman and the other woman went on to what seemed theh doom. Half way down the hill was a man with a horse and buggy. As they overtook him the helpless gripman rang his bell in a fury and called to him to warn the other car.

The man was quick-witted, and took in the situation at a giance. He leaned over and gave the horse a sharp lash. Then began a race for life,

He gained gradually on the cabis car and whipped down into the gully with his horse on a dead run; then began the ascent.

The horse's leaps, even under the whip, died down shorter; the rise was too steep for the pace. Meantime the car approaching from the west had turned the crest of the hill and plunged down toward them.

The one woman passenger on the runaway struggled to her feet. The gripman saw that she was going to jump, and reached over from his maddened brake and tried to help her, but she plunged out into the air and fell in a heap.

The two cars went on eating upthe space between them. The man in the buggy, lashing at every foot, at last met the oncoming grip and yelled out a warning. With all his muscle the gripman of the downgrade car brought the thing to a full stop on the side hill.

But the runaway came on relentlessly.

As the two came nearer and nearer together, the gripman made one last lessly.

As the two came nearer and nearer together, the gripman made one last wild effort to stop, the strand gave way, and the grip came to a standstill only a few feet away from the other

ROMANCE OF THE DESERT.

Climax of a Rapid-fire Love Affair.

Great Question Decided After the Ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman to Continue Dancing Partnership for Life.

As exemplars of the one-act and strictly down-to-date romance in real life. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Chapman of the Mojave Desert are entitled to all the medals. They are at the Nadeau on their honeymoon.

Their marriage is one of those affairs that make an elopement look silly, and a real swell church welding resemble a funeral for gayety. It was a quick-to-see, promuy-to-love and ready-to-act affair of two young hearts, with the plain gold band crowding the solitate for the lucky maid's finger.

Yesterday morning mout 10 o'clock a young lady sauntered into the hotel, registered plain "N. N. Wyatt. Daggett," and went to her room. About half an hour fater came a youth, and with cool nonchalance wrote "H. L. Chapman" on the book, and going to the telephone summoned Rev. Mr. Cantine of the First Methodist Church to the Nadeau parlocs. As soon as the divine arrived a bell-boy was dispatched to bring the Rev. Mr. Cantine of the First Methodist Church to the Nadeau parlors. As soon as the divine arrived a beliboy was dispatched to bring the young lady, and with the assistance of a chambermaid and porter to act as best man, bridesmaid and witnesses, there was consummated about as unique a wedding as could be arranged.

The rough-and-ready climax of the Wyatt-Chapman romance was in strict accordance with its preceding chapters. The groom is 22 y.ars cli and the bride several years his junior. He is an engineer in the borax mines at Borate, and she is the daughter of a railroad man at Dagget. The twelve miles which separated the young lovers made virils comewnat infrequent, and love coud not well keep cool on the Mojave Desert.

The quick dee's on came after the ball was over. The lover attended a social dance at Dagget, and 'she' of yourse had him on for the first, the middle and the last. Neve had he enjoyed the dancing so before. Here fest that something must be done, and that at once. The next to the last dance went by without decisive action. Then it came to the last part of the final waits, and he felt that he must speak. He knew that unless there was an encore he was lost for that the cool night air and the absence of muste would have. The musicians legon giancing about for their instrument cases.

"Pretty long between these dances,"

"Nothing would make ms any happier, if it were only possible."
"It's a bargain: we'll go to Los Angeles on the first train and take out the incorporation papers."
So the young folks went from the dance hall to the depot, and took the south-bound train which passed through Daggett at 2 am. They arrived in Los Angeles about 9, and were man and wife before noon.

Successful to a marked degree was the reception tendered by the ladies of the First Congregational Church last night in the interest of the Women's Church Work Society. A very pleasant evening was spent at "The Bivouac," the home of Gen. and Mis. Harrison Gray Otis, corner Wilshire Boulevard and Park Yiew avenue. Through the courtesy of Gen. and Mrs. Otis their beautiful residence was thrown open to the ladies, and about two hundred and fifty church people and their friends enjoyed the elegant hospitality of the place.

It was an evening of potriotic entertainment, including an exhibition and explanation of Gen. Otis's many war curios. This feature of the occasion was of particular interest. After an enjoyable programme of music and reading, dainty refreshments were served.

The programme was as follows: Male quartette, "Wine Song," Mesyrs, E. Frank Campbell, C. Modin Vool. Bivouac" to Their Friends.

atrolmen better adapted to meet pubz needs and to improve the efficiency the police department than the procosed plan for a general advance in alaries. The large number of well-inorsed applications on file for appointpent to the force leaves no room to both that the additional officers can as had at present salaries."

Ever since the Council adopted the sroposed increased schedule and referred the report of the committee of the whole to the City Attorney for an ordinance, there has been continued discussion of the proposed measure. If the ordinance is adopted the police department will cost the city $34,000 more a year than at present. Patrolmen now ruceive $33.33 a month, and it is prolosed to increase their pay to $100 a month. Officers' pay is increased in proportion. By some it is argued that policemen should not be asked to work for less than $100 a month, which is tess than paid patrolmen in San Francisco. Others believe that the schedule should remain as at present and the should remain as at present and the 134,000 could then be expended to in-presse the force. This sum would pro-vide for twenty-four patrolmen. Councilmen are reluctant to antago-nize the policemen in any way, but it was stated yesterday that opposition to the proposed increased schedule will develop at the session next Mon-chief Elton yesterday presented to the Police Board an urgent recommendation for additional patrolmen. The communication was carefully prepared and gives statistics showing police conditions in other cities. It is expected to have much weight with the Council, to which it was referred by the board. The report is as follows: "In each of my annual reports, and upon all other suitable occasions, I have recommended and have shown the urgent need of a substantial increase of the police force, and now,

"Not including Griffith Park.

"The foregoing table shows that we now have but one officer to each of 1190 of population, and that the area of Los Angeles is larger than many of the other cities of the country having two to five times our population, for instance, Greater New York, with thirty-three times our population, has but eight times are of Los Angeles, and has seventy times as many officers; Boston, with a smaller area than Los Angeles, and the two cities in the list having forces of less than one officer to the 1000 of population, are cities of smaller area. San Francisco now has 635 police officers, and while the population is about three times having forces of less than one officer to the 1000 of population, are cities of smaller area. San Francisco now has 635 police officers, and while the population is about three times that of Los Angeles, and the area about the same as ours, it has six times as many officers.

"The pay roll of our present force, at present salaries, amounts to but $111,335 per year, or but little more than one-eighth of the pay roll of the San Francisco force, for which the appropriation for next year for salaries is $359,444, the total appropriation for said department being $1,092,000. With our force increased by thirty men at present salaries, the pay roll of the seventy-three officers then constituting the police force, aggregated $75,378 a year. The population of the city was then estimated at 70,000, making an annual expense per capita of $1.11. With the increase asked for, counting our present population at 125,000, which is a conservative estimate, the average expense per capita would be but $11.13, a very trifling increase."

Thorpe declared that the report was a very able one, and that it expressed what many people have been thinking and talking. He moved that the request of the Chief be indorsed, and referred to the Council, with an urgent recommendation that more officers be provided.

"Why not put the $24,000 into more officers, instead of into salaries?" queried Walker.
"Well," declared Thorpe, meditatively, "I taink, on the whole, that I should favor more officers, instead of more pay, but both are desirable if the city can afford the expense. I feel that the police department, which affords protection to our homes, should be well paid."
The request for more officers was unanimously indorsed.

Mrs. Benson Swears That the Only Respite from Marital Woe Was When the Police Put Her Cruel Spouse is

Mrs. Lizzie Benson, who conducts the Edison lodging-house on North Main street, told Judge Trask a tale of marital woe yesterday and secured a divorce from R. C. Benson, on the ground of extreme cruelty. Mrs. Benson is about as slender as a fat woman can be, and wears ear-rings of the creecent sort, so heavy that they casily swing the lobes of her ears. According to the woman, Benson is a "boozer" and a "knocker."

"He used to get drunk every day and then he would slap me, and knock me around, until it was more than I could stand," said Mrs. Benson on the witness stand.

They were married in Los Angeles in 1891.

"How often did he strike you, Mrs. Benson?" asked her attorney. C. C. McComas, Esq., sympathetically.

"All the time—except for three months, when he was in jail," was the startling reply.

Mrs. Benson says Benson has been in jail three times for chasing her with an ax, and other family pleasantries that disturbed the peace of the neighborhood. Once she says she had to hide in the cellar for nine days to keep out of his way.

"At that time he broke to pieces everything in the house," said she, "unnting for me, but I couldn't be found."

"He just wanted to kill me," she replied, airily, as if being murderously pursued were an everyday diversion.
"Oh, he wanted to break you along with all the other stuff, did he?" commented merry "Mae," after the worst had been known.
"Yes," assented the injured woman.
"How has your husband's behavior affected you, Mrs. Benson? Did it hurt your feelings?" asked "Mac."
"Yes," was the reply, "I was scared to death all the time."
At this point Mrs. Benson vouch-safed that Benson at the present time is a resident of Dogtown.

MONEY IN DISPUTE.

SON FORGETS HIS FATHER.

Life insurance money in the sum of $1000 on a policy issued last November by the Modern Woodmen of America, is the subject of a legal wrangle before Judge Trask. The policy was issued on the life of Hubert W. Hemphill. 21 years old, who died only eight days after being initiated into Pacific Camp No. 2622, this city.

Two parties now claim the money, which was promptly paid into court as soon as the Modern Woodmen learned that there were uncompromising claimants.

When young Hemphill first made application for his insurance, le wished his policy made payable to his "legal heirs." A few days before he died, however, he had the beneficiary changed to Mrs. Jernie Holmes, a dear matronly friend, in whose home he lived and was identified as one of her family. Mrs. Holmes says his heiped support her and that she looked after his wardrobe and never charged him anything for board or lodging.

Besides the insurance, he left some property which he deeded to Mrs. Holmes just before he died.

To hold the benefits bestowed upon ther by Hemphill, Mrs. Holmes has had to defend her rights in the courts as against vehement contentions of deceased's father, S. K. Hemphill. It is the father that now fights for the insurance. As to the property, a house and lot in this city, Judee York recently decided against him and gave it to Mrs. Holmes. Hemphill claimed that she had induced his son to sign the deed at the hospital, where he was so sick as to be incompetent to transact business. But Judge York thought not.

Young Hemphill was estranged from his father and often stated that none

SAN PEDRO MARSHAL OUT. B. M. Baker, Marshal of the city

B. M. Baker, Marshal of the city of San Pedro, cannot recover from the city fees for services rendered in serving warrants issued by Justice Downing out of the Township Court of Wilmington township.

Such is the decision of Justice James, handed down yesterday, when a demurrer was sustained in Baker's suit against the city of San Pedro, which is a city of the sixth class. Says Justice James: "Justice Downing was not a city justice, and city justices are not provided for in cities of the sixth class. And it will be noticed that where city justice courts are provided for, the Legislature has given them first, the same jurisdiction as is possessed by township justices, and has distinctly added that they 'shall have also jurisdiction of all proceedings for the violation of any ordinance of any city in which such courts are established."

"If Justice Downing, as Justice of the Peace of Wilmington Township,

"It Justice Downing, as Justice of the Peace of Wilmington Township, received complaints and issued warrants thereon, under ordinances of the city of San Pedro, he acted without jurisdiction, and the proceedings were void.

city of San Pedro, he acted without jurisdiction, and the proceedings were void.

"But counsel contends that it was the duty of the officer to execute such process as was delivered to him by the Justice, providing the process was regular on its face, and that he would be entitled to fees for such service. That argument might be of force in some particular cases, where an officer is defending against a suit for damages, but is not entitled to consideration here. The warrants of arrest in this case referred to were not regular upon their face; they described alleged offenses committed in violation of ordinances of the city of San Pedro, of which the officer must be presumed to know were not within the jurisdiction of the Township Justices' Court, but within that of the Recorder's Court."

Curing Difficult Cases.

Each and every one of those diseases peculiar to men presents a difficult problem to the average physician. Some cases are more complex than others and consequently more difficult to cure. There is one reason why I like to treat such cases. Difficult cases afford the best possible demonstration of my superior methods and skill. I have treated so many men that a clear understanding of the case is never tacking, and I know exactly how to meet every requirement of a thorough cure. Of course a physician who is able to accomplish difficult cures will render the best service in minor cases as well, and I invite all men, young, middle aged or old, who are afflicted in any degree whatever with the aliments I treat to call and consult me without charge.

MEN'S DISEASES ONLY

ly termed "weakness," are a direct result of inflammation, enlargement or excessive sensitiveness of the prosente gland, brought on by early dissipation, or resulting from some improperty treated contracted disorder. These conditions cannot possibly be removed by internal medicines, and any tonic system of treatment that stimulates activity of the functions can but result in aggravation of the real aliment. This is a scientific truth that I have accertained after careful study and observation in hundreds of cases, and is a truth upon which my own original system of treatment is based. I supply mether tonics, attinulates nor electric helts. I treat by local method exclusively, and my success in curing even those contractively relieves with failer tonics, is conclusive weidence that my method affords the only possible means of a complete and radical cure.

SHOT BY CATTLE THIEVES.

IMPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE THIEAL

SAN DIEGO, July 24.—William Johnson of Campo telephoned the San Diego authorities this evening stating that a Mexican had arrived there from the large ranch of Joseph Jaussaud, forty miles south of Campo, bringing the information that while pursuing cattle thieves who had made off with a bunch of his cattle, Jaussaud had been shot.
The message did not state whether the wounds were fatal. Men were immediately sent out from, here on fast horses to secure additional information and to protect the large herd of cattle on the ranch. Jassaud resided with his family at Tia Juana. He left for the ranch a few days ago on receipt of information that an organised band of thieves was running off his cattle. SHOT BY CATTLE THIEVES.

EMULATOR OF OREGON BANDIT IN

Holds Up Owner and a Friend With an Ax, Then Loots the Place-Caught Near Ontario.

CUCAMONGA, July 24.—Tracy, the Oregon bandit, has an imitator in this section and several armed men, including several officers scoured the country for him. Unjike Tracy, he eluded his pursuers only a short time and was captured. He committed one of the boldest robberies ever heard of in this part of San Bernardino county. The crime was perpetrated Wednesday at a lonely cabin near West Cucamonga, a few miles from this place. The victims are two young men, John Van Fleet and John Leach. Van Fleet owns a cabin near West Cucamonga and Wednesday morning the west, there with Leach.

was armed with an ax and raising it in a threatening manner, ordered the two men to take seats at the side of the room, in such position that it would have been dangerous for them would have been dangerous for them to have attempted to take him by surprise. Neither Leach nor Van Fleet had a weapon, and they could only obey the stranger's orders.

It was then seen that the man had been at breakfast, for as soon as he had placed his prisoners where he could have reached them with his ax he again seated himself and finished his meal. While eating he said nothing to his prisoners, except to command them to remain silent when one of them spoke to him.

They watched him closely fifteen minutes or more and secured a very accurate description of him.

Roy Enos Moore of this city, and Mary Woodward Desmond of Santa Paula were married yesterday evening Mary Woodward Desmond of Santa Pauls were married yesterday evening in the pariors of the Petrolia hotel, Santa Pauls, by Rev. Scott of the Universalist Church. The pariors were beautifully decorated in feros, papyrus, Matilija poppies and magnolias. Winifred Owen was the flower girl, and Millicent Birden, Lulu Sewell, Cigrence Olmstead and George McIntosh the attendants. Numerous presents were received. The wedding supper was attended by sixty guests, including the Poyo club of thirteen young ladies. The bride's table was decorated in white and the others in pink. The Poyos were attired in purple and white. The dining-toom was decorated in crepe paper, etc., a floral beli being over the bride's table. The couple was escorted to the south-bound limited by the Poyo club and a host of others. They left for Catajina where they will remain for ten days, returning to this city where they will reside. The groom is a member of the Owj club here, and will give an oyster supper to the brother Owls on his return.

NOTHING TO DO BUT EAT.

Young Men May Pose as Patrioti can-made Foods.

[Boston Herald:] Washington may be will not be impossible when Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief chemist of the Agricultural Department, inserts in the papers an advertisement which he is preparing, something like this:

"Wanted—Six healthy young men, with nothing to do but eat."

Congress at its last session directed the Agricultural Department to experiment and report on the effect of eating foods artificially colored or preserved. Dr. Wiley says he cannot make these experiments unless he has some one to experiment on. Consequently young men with nothing to do but eat may be sorry after they have eaten, but they will be under the observing care of Dr. Wiley and their condition at all times will be recorded in history.

This eating contest will undoubtedly be watched with the greatest interest by manufacturers of "doctored" foodstuffs. Whether there is any ground for the antagonistic legislation against American food products by some European countries will also be one of the objects sought to be cleared up by this eating contest.

REBORN AT TROPICO.

Los Angeles County: Its Cities, Towns, Hamlets and Suburban Places.

Rejoicing by Citizens and Speechmaking by Officers of the Company-

Miss Cora Goodell by Miss Cora Hickman.
O. P. Snyder spoke, and introduced Joseph Kirkham, who made happy remarks. Addresses were made also by Col. Griffith, William Knight, J. A. Merrill and H. C. Goodell. Three cheers were given for Mr. Kirkham and his untiring efforts.
The ceremonies were witnessed by a large crowd, composed of citizens of Tropico and people from Los Angeles, Glendale, Highland Park, and other adjacent places. The faithful few of Tropico's citizens, who have never lost courage, were present to witness the officers of the plant are: O. P. Snyder, general superintendent; D. H. Imler, superintendent of clay department; J. Balley Hickman, superintendent of clay department; J. Balley Hickman, superintendent of machinery departments and construction; J. B. Normart, foreman. C. C. Chandler is contractor and builder, and K. R. Bradley contractor of the brick work.

The main building, now under construction, is 385 feet long and 125 feet wide. The power-house, which is fast nearing completion, will be 70 feet long and 50 feet wide. This building, like the main building, will be of brick with handsome stone trimmings.

This Coast has long felt the need of an art tile factory, but it remained for Joseph Kirkham, an expert ceramist and pottery man, to come here and establish such an industry. He comes of a family of potters, and received his early training in one of the noted Wedgwood factories, of England, under the supervision of Joseph Wedgwood. He is reputed one of the most expert ceramists of the United States.

The Tropico site for this industry was selected by Mr. Kirkham, and Col. Griffith, as the most desirable of the many sites visited and submitted, for climatic conditions, pure water, natural scenery, as well as lying so closely adjacent to Los Angeles. The grounds upon which the factory buildings are being erected embrace an area of thirty-seven acres, and when finally improved, under the direction of Mr. Kirkham, will resemble the campus of some large college, while the buildings will be an ornament to any institution, as the style of architecture and construction will be unsurpassed. The grounds are beautifully situated, lying west of the Southern Pacific Raliroad, and north of Tropico avenue. On the west and closely adjacent, is Griffith's Park, with Griffith Peak, named in honor of the donor of the park, overshadowing the factory site.

Within a radius of 155 miles of Tropico 585 different varieties of clay.

of the park, overshadowing the fac-tory site.

Within a radius of 125 miles of Tropico 585 different varieties of clay, suitable for the manufacture of art tiles for exterior and interior decora-tions, have been discovered.

The close proximity of such val-uable clay deposits will greatly facili-tate the cheap transportation to the factory.

HANDSOME SOUVENIR.

The Santa Monica fire department souvenir, just issued from the Times-Mirror Printing and Binding house, is one of the handsomest and most valuable editions of the kind ever brought out in Southern California. The title given the volume does not give a fair idea of the scope of its contents, for it really is a comprehensive pictorial directory of not only the seaside metropolis, but Ocean Park, Sawtelle and the Soldiers' Home. The fire department, schools, churches, residences and business houses are ably set forth in picture, descriptive matter and advertisement. The historical sketches are well written, and the half-tones are exquiment. The instorical sketches are well written, and the half-tones are exqui-sitely produced. J. H.
